GOVERNMENT OF PANAMA

IS RECOGNIZED BY UNITED STATES.

Instructions to This Effect Sent Minister Braupre at Bogota and Acting Consul Herman at Panama.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The United States government has recognized the defacto government of Panama. It was announced at the state department after return of Secretary Hay from the cabinet meeting that instructions had been sent to Minister Braupre at Bogota and Acting Consul Herman at Panama to inform the governments of Colombia and Panama respectively that the defacto government is recognized.

The decision to recognize the defacto government of Panama was arrived at after a protracted session of the cabinet, at which every member was present except Secretaries Root and Wilson. The president emphasized importance of recognition of the defacto government. With withdrawal of Colombian officials the isthmus was left entirely without government unless that established by the secessionists should be recognized and this it seemed necessary for transaction of routine business of the United States on the isthmus.

Consul General Guder has arrived in Washington from Asheville and to day received instructions preliminary to his departure for Panama. Rear Admiral Coghlan has received orders to convey Guder to the isthmus on the yacht Mayflower, which will sail from the navy yards Sunday for Colon at full speed.

SECRETARY HAY'S STATEMENT.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Secretary Hay's statement regarding affairs on the isthmus was made public to night.

"Action of the president in the Panama matter is not only in strictest accordance with the principles of justice and equity and in line with all the best precedents of our public policy, but it was the only course he could have taken in compliance with our treaty rights and obligations," says Hay. He then quotes from the treaty entered into with New Granada in 1846, showing that New Granada guaranteed right of way across the isthmus should be free and open to the government and citizens of the United States. Also that this was given upon guarantee of the United States to maintain neutrality of the isthmus so that free transit might not be interrupted or embarrassed in any future time while this treaty exists.

Secretary Hay also quotes from a message of President Polk, setting forth the close connection between the two governments and pointing out advantages to United States trade likely to result from guarantees provided for in the treaty.

"The control in the interest of commerce and traffic of the whole civilized world of the means of undisturbed transit across the isthmus of Panama," says the secretary, "has become of transcendent importance to the United States. The right to this control we have never forfeited by any laxity of our own either in assertion of our rights or in performance of our duty under the treaty. In 1853 Mr. Everett assured the Peruvian minister that we should not hesitate to maintain neutrality of the isthmus in case of war between Peru and Colombia."

Secretary Hay says that in 1861 Colombia, which has always been vigilant to avail itself of its privileges conferred by the treaty, expressed its expectation that in event of war between Peru and Spain the United States would carry into effect the guarantee of neutrality. He also says there have been few administrations of the state department in which this treaty has not, either by one side or the other, been used as a basis of more or less important demands, and cites numerous instances in support of this statement. "The United States," he says, "has not only constantly protected Colombia from foreign invasion on the strength of the rights and duties created by the treaty of 1846, but has time and again intervened to preserve freedom of traffic from disturbance in the course of domestic dissensions. In these cases we have intervened sometimes at the suggestion of Colombia, sometimes on our own impression of the necessities of the case, but always to the profit of Colombia, as well as of United States commerce."

Secretary Hay says: "There has never been any doubt of the validity of the treaty of 1846 to guarantee free and open transit either for American citizens or for the government of the United States," and our right to transport troops across the isthmus was acknowledged in a protocol signed at Bogota Feb. 22, 1879.

Continuing, Secretary Hay says: "It must not be lost sight of that this treaty is not dependent for its efficacy on the personnel of the signers or name of the territory it affects. It is a covenant, as lawyers say, that runs with the land. The name of New Granada has passed away; its territory has been divided. But as long as the isthmus endures, a great geographical fact keeps alive the solemn compact which binds the holders of the territory to grant us freedom of transit and binds us in return to safeguard for the isthmus and the world exercise of that inestimable privilege.

"It is therefore too clear for discussion that when, at repeated solicitation of the government of Colombia, a treaty was entered into between that government and the United States for carrying into effect that long considered plan of a canal across the isthmus, to be owned and controlled by the government of the United States, it was no new proposition that was being adopted, but rather carrying out of a long cherished plan of both countries and assertion of a right which had long since been conceded in principle by the government of Colombia."

Hay here speaks of congressional authorization for building the canal, large bonus offered, liberal lease and numerous benefits that would accrue to Colombia, and says: "The treaty was promptly ratified by the senate of the United States and rejected unanimously by that of Colombia." He declares that suggestions for renewal of negotiations "have been too vague and too extravagant to merit serious consideration of the United States."

Washington, Nov. 6.—Under personal instructions which he will receive to-morrow from the president Consul General Guder leaves on the Mayflower on Sunday for Colon to assume command of the American consulate there. These instructions will be of the most minute character, though, of course, much will be left to the discretion of Guder, in whom the administration has the fullest confidence. On arrival of the Mayflower at Colon Guder will make himself known at once to the defacto government and the usual formalities in such cases will be observed. He will do business directly with the republic of Panama, which in its provisional form consists of an executive board, but which before his arrival may easily take the form of a permanent government.

In an interview with the Associated Press Guder said he was not surprised the isthmus declared its independence. Revolution was a foregone conclusion five months ago, he says. Guder says sentiment of the people of the isthmus toward the United States is extremely cordial and friendly. "They want," he says, "independence, annexation or anything that will insure construction of the Panama canal and consequent prosperity of the isthmus. They have the greatest confidence of the people and government of the United States. American capital is already there to a large extent and the people are desirous of cultivating closer trade relations with the United States."

"If you have ever been to South America you have seen," for yourself, that the American flag is respected and trusted as the flag of no other nation and nowhere in South or Central America is this more true than on the isthmus."

Guder would not discuss Colombia and declined to make any comment upon the policy of the Washington government. He went to the Colombian legation to day and had a conference with Dr. Herran, Colombian charge, who is his personal friend.

EPISCOPAL CONGRESS

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—The twenty-second congress of the Protestant Episcopal church of America closed to day. Several delegates read papers or made addresses on the topic, "Is it desirable to change the name of this church?" The general trend was favorable to a change of name, but "The Catholic Church of America" did not meet with unanimous favor. Rev. F. M. Clendenin, of New York, championed the name and in the course of a paper on the subject said: "That the mighty house of Protestantism is falling according to divine prophecy is a fact as sure as that death is coming to us all, a fact to which their own great leaders bear open witness."

Rev. William R. Huntington, member of the general executive committee, and rector of Grace church, New York, argued that a change of name was urgent, but that the word Protestant was singularly and strikingly apostolic and in Latin was the exact equivalent of martyr. He said the three features of the Roman religion which commended it to its adherents were: Eucharistic adoration, confession and invocation of Mary and the saints, and when they are convinced that not one of these was contained in the original deposit of faith there will be some chance of persuading them to listen, and with their help we can build up a national church large enough for all. No final action was taken.

The congress elected officers. The president is always the bishop in the diocese in which the congress is held. Vice presidents were elected as follows: Bishops of Missouri, Albany, South Dakota, Kentucky, Southern Ohio, West Virginia, New York, Southern Virginia, Louisiana, Tennessee, Texas, Massachusetts, Vermont, Michigan City, Los Angeles, Washington, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Sacramento. The only change in the executive committee was replacing of Rev. Dr. J. R. Shipman by Rev. Dr. W. T. Manning. All present active officers were re-elected.

LEFT TO ARBITRATION

Springfield, Nov. 6.—At a conference to day between coal operators and representatives of holding engineers of Illinois it was decided to leave the question of increased wages to arbitration and pending decision of the committee work will continue at the mines.

REJOICING AT CITY OF PANAMA

OVER DEPARTURE OF COLOMBIAN TROOPS

The Flag of the New Republic Raised Over Colon—New Governor Recounts the Grievances of Panama.

Panama, Nov. 6.—When the news of the departure of Colombian troops became known here last night enthusiasm was unlimited. Thousands of persons, with flags, torches and fireworks, headed by two bands of music, marched through the town. As the procession passed the United States consulate the "Star Spangled Banner" was played, and crowds cheered wildly for the United States. President Roosevelt, Commander Hubbard of the Nashville, Secretary Hay and Acting Consul General Ehrman. The procession went to General Huertas' headquarters, and with the general borne on the shoulders of four patriots, marched through the town again. Dr. Amador, minister of finance of the provisional government, and the revolutionary junta, Jose Arjano, Frederico Hoyd and Tomas Arias, who with General Huertas were hailed as liberators of Panama, received great ovations.

Colon, Nov. 6.—Shortly before the flag of the republic of Panama was formally hoisted over the prefecture here this morning the new civil and military governor, Perferio Melendez, delivered an oration in which he recounted Panama's grievances against Colombia, and said:

"The government of this new republic aspires to give the isthmus a definite and true era of progress so that it may not remain behind in advance of the civilization which the clock of time marks in other states of the universe. The supreme board which I represent, desires nothing else, but to found a government of and for all citizens. Let us unite in a spirit of truth without hatred or rancor toward any, and after giving thanks to the Almighty for the happy consummation of this transcendent and bloodless act, assist me in saying with enthusiasm and decision, 'Long live the isthmus; long live the republic of Panama.'"

The consul corps at Colon was present, but through the French consul as spokesman, the members said they were not there in any official capacity. The flag of the new republic was raised amidst much cheering and general rejoicing, and simultaneously fireworks were exploded all over the town. Police, bearing the flag of the republic of Panama, then marched through the streets to their headquarters, over which the emblem was raised.

GOVERNOR APPOINTED

Colon, Nov. 6.—The government of the republic of Panama last night appointed Senor Porferio Melendez civil and military governor of Colon pending appointment of new officials. Those of the old government have been impotent since the troops left. The prefect and alcade are now nonentities. Melendez notified officials they may remain at their posts for the present if they swear allegiance to the new republic. The new republic is doubtless firmly established. There are no Colombian troops on the isthmus and satisfaction is everywhere expressed at the new order of things.

WILL NOT REPUDIATE TREATIES.

Paris, Nov. 6.—The French foreign office to day received a dispatch from the French consul at Panama confirming Associated Press dispatches yesterday from that city and from Colon. The consul says the revolution thus far has not spread to other provinces. The new state assumes all former treaty and legal obligations of Colombia. The last information is regarded by officials here as being most important, showing no disposition on the part of the new republic to repudiate canal or other property rights acquired from Colombia.

Feeling in government circles here continues strongly favorable to allowing the revolution in Panama to take its course. It is definitely stated no steps have been taken or are contemplated toward intervention. A few irresponsible newspapers criticize the United States and show ignorance of the French government's position by asserting warships will be sent to Panama "to restrain American plans."

These views are not shared by the government or by the more serious element of the press and public. Official sentiment is distinctly sympathetic to the United States and there is reason to believe an official exchange of views between Washington and Panama will tend toward harmonious action on the part of the two governments.

PAT CROWE'S PAL CAUGHT.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 6.—Thomas Costello, alias Tom Murphy, a pal of Pat Crowe, was captured here to day after a hard fight. Costello confessed to Chief of Police Franz in participating in the kidnapping of young Cudany at Omaha and to other crimes. Costello says a man named Johnson, now in the Montana penitentiary, seized young Cudany while he and Crowe waited at a house in the outskirts of Omaha. Chief of Police Franz to night said he had ended Costello's statement.

BOILER BLEW UP

Fatal Accident at Ohio Agricultural College During an Exhibition.

Columbus, Nov. 6.—While students of the agricultural college of the Ohio state university were witnessing harvesting of a field of corn for ensilage purposes by a machine operated by an old traction engine to day the boiler blew up with terrific force, hurling heavy pieces of iron through the crowd of spectators. Charles Pepper King, engineer, was instantly killed; John Delgarn, assistant engineer, fatally injured, and seven spectators more or less seriously hurt.

WAR IN SAN DOMINGO

Washington, Nov. 6.—A cablegram received at the state department from United States Minister Powell, dated San Domingo City, to day, states insurgents are marching on that city and asking that a warship be at once sent there. The cruiser Baltimore, which sailed for Hampton roads several days ago, is now due at San Domingo and the state department believes here presence there will be sufficient.

San Domingo, Sunday, Nov. 1.—A Dominican warship stopped the Clyde line steamer Cherokee as the latter was nearing Puerto Plata and informed the captain he could not enter that port. The Cherokee then proceeded for Samana and was also prevented from entering that port, the minister of war ordering the captain of the Cherokee to proceed direct to other capital.

On arrival of the vessel here the government demanded cargo intended for Puerto Plata and Samana be landed at this port. The agent of the company and captain of the Cherokee refused to comply and appealed to United States Minister Powell for protection. Powell interviewed the president and argued that since the government of Santo Domingo had not advised foreign legations of any blockade it could not prevent the Cherokee from entering the ports of Puerto Plata and Samana, and insisted the cargo should be landed at its destination. The president in reply reiterated his demand that the Cherokee's cargo be landed at San Domingo, but this Powell refused to permit and declared he would hold the government responsible should any violent action be adopted toward the Cherokee.

When the Cherokee was ready to leave for Azua, clearance papers were refused and it was again demanded she land her cargo at this port. Powell wrote a sharp note to the government demanding a permit for the Cherokee to depart. The government refused to allow a pilot to board the vessel and Powell instructed Captain Archibald to take his ship out and proceed to Azua, keeping his cargo aboard and landing at the ports of destination.

The energetic action of Powell has caused a great sensation, especially as his proceeding lacked support of an American warship. The Cherokee left the harbor without a pilot. The city is quiet, but preparations looking to its defense are in active progress.

FORCED THE BLOCKADE

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Nov. 6.—The Clyde line steamer Cherokee, which was prevented by authorities from entering the ports of Puerto Plata and Samana, forced the blockade at the former port and entered there yesterday.

WORK FOR THOUSANDS

Pittsburg, Nov. 6.—As a result of a general conference of window glass interests in Philadelphia yesterday fully 10,000 skilled window glass workers who have been idle over six months will be back to work within ten days, and before Dec. 1 at least 40,000 workmen dependent upon them will have employment. Under the agreement workers will receive a 2 1/2 per cent increase in wages, but the most important part of the new scale is a concession which will enable manufacturers to shut out from 800,000 to 900,000 boxes of foreign window glass imported annually from Belgium and France. To meet the increase in wages the price of glass will probably be advanced 15 to 20 per cent. Under the new scale wages for blowers will average $180 a month for single strength glass and $400 a month for double thick plates.

CAUCUSES TO BE HELD.

Washington, Nov. 6.—A Republican caucus of senators to consider vacancies on committees will be held Tuesday afternoon. Democrats of the house will hold a caucus to-morrow afternoon, when a minority leader will be chosen.

ILLINOIS DEFEATED

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 6.—Indiana played Illinois off its feet here to day in a game which took the breath of the visitors and officials who came from other colleges. They shut out Coach Woodruff's men by the score of 17 to 0. Not only did Illinois come closer than the Hoosiers' fifteen yard line and at most stages was unable to keep the ball out of its territory.

INDUSTRY AND TRADE QUIETER

AFFECTED BY UNSEASONABLE WEATHER.

Railway Earnings Continue to Increase—Building Permits are Decreasing and Structural Work is Not Prosecuted.

New York, Nov. 6.—R. G. Dun's review of trade for the week says: Unseasonable mild weather is making it possible for farmers to secure much late grain and cotton that seemed doomed by early frost, but, on the other hand, trade is dull in heavy wearing apparel, fuel and many lines that should now be vigorous. While in the long run this business may be made up and the nation be benefited by increased crops, immediate effect is unfavorable. Building permits are decreasing and structural work is not prosecuted with the vigor seen last year. Lumber is firm, despite moderate demand. Railways continue prosperous. Earnings for October surpass last year's by 6.3 per cent. Bessemer pig at Pittsburg holds fairly steady, but Gray Forge and southern foundry irons are off 25 to 50 cents a ton. Steel billets were put nearer parity with pig iron, pool prices being reduced from $27 to $23. Rails are maintained at $23 for standard weight. With extensive restriction of blast furnace activity there is reason to look for steadier markets in the near future. Less pronounced conservatism is shown by purchasers of cotton goods and there is evidently more desire to secure deliveries without looking for concessions in prices. Woolen goods are adversely affected by high temperatures. There were 236 failures this week in the United States, against 188 the corresponding week last year.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT.

Bradstreet's review says: Trade and industry is quieter on the whole. Unseasonable weather affects retail trade at many centers and conservatism in providing for future requirements restricts jobbing trade. Relatively most activity is found in the south, where growth of cotton movement at high prices ruling stimulates business at many centers. In industrial lines reports of curtailed production are evidences of new demand not pressing sharply as heretofore. Food products are easing off, and finished iron and steel are leading downward movement of manufactured goods, but signs of reawakening foreign and domestic demand lead to the hope that the automatic check to demand long exercised will be removed. Iron and steel bars are active and western jobbers make $5 per ton by filling orders from store rather than from mill. Wire products are likewise active. Lumber is steady as a whole, though white pine is rather quieter. Export business is good. Hardware is notably active the country over, which leads to the hope that lower prices of materials generally will induce demand to reawaken.

Wheat, including flour, exports for the week were 1,440,000 bushels, against 5,716,000 this week last year; for the eighteen weeks of the cereal year, 58,242,000 bushels, against 55,440,000 last year. Corn exports for the week were 1,400,000 bushels against 1,410,000 bushels a year ago; for the eighteen weeks of the cereal year, 19,903,000 bushels, against 1,863,000 a year ago.

MIDSHIPMEN DISMISSED.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The secretary of the navy to day signed orders dismissing Midshipmen Joseph Drummond Little of Ohio, John Henry Lofland of Iowa and Earl Worden Chaffee of Wisconsin from the services of the United States. They were members of the first class at the naval academy and were convicted by court martial on the charge of hazing.

MASSACRE CONFIRMED.

Capetown, Nov. 6.—Official advice received here fully confirms the massacre at Warmbad, Damaraland, by Bengelwar tribesmen. Germans gallantly fought to the end, but were overwhelmed. It is believed none of them escaped. Warmbad was burned. The rebellion was officially attributed to depression caused by drought.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

Waterloo, Iowa, Nov. 6.—The coroner's jury found to day that John Bush, president of the gas company, who was found dead on the floor of his office in this city a week ago, and who was believed to have been murdered, died of injuries accidentally inflicted by a fall.

BANK CLEARINGS.

New York, Nov. 6.—Total bank clearings compiled by Bradstreet's for the past week were 1,904,813,782, a decrease of 15.3 per cent compared with the corresponding week last year.

DEPART FOR PANAMA

Washington, Nov. 6.—The navy department received a cablegram from Rear Admiral Glass commanding the Pacific squadron, announcing the departure of the Marblehead, Concord, Warrington and Collier, Nov. yesterday, at Acapulco, Mexico, for Panama. The squadron is proceeding full speed.

MORGAN PREDICTS WAR

Alabama Senator Discusses the Matter of Landing Troops on the Isthmus.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Senator Morgan said to day that soon after congress convenes in extra session he will introduce a resolution calling on the senate foreign committee to obtain from the state department a detailed report of the relations between the United States and Colombia under the treaty of 1846. According to Morgan, the attitude of this country is not justified by careful construction of provisions of the treaty and is at variance with precedents laid down by the United States. Discussing the situation to day he said:

"This is the fourth time the United States has landed troops on the isthmus under cloak of the treaty. Heretofore it has been for suppression of rioting and for protection of Colombia. Now that it is against the wish of Colombia it undoubtedly will provoke a 'just' protest. Colombia means war. Of that I am certain."

"This government will find it will have a series of complications on its hands not unlike that offered by the Indians when they were met with the territorial aggression of this government, and the trouble Colombians will make will be similar to that of the Filiphinos, with the conduct of warfare far more difficult. I believe, however, the administration will not have this matter to decide. It is a question for congress and that body is not likely to shirk the responsibility."

CHURCH EXTENSION

Kansas City, Nov. 6.—Another effort was made to day before the Methodist Episcopal general committee on church extension to suspend the rule limiting church extension work to assisting in erection of buildings not costing more than $10,000. The effort failed, however. The committee resumed work of voting money to aid struggling churches. The following amounts were authorized in the states named:

State.	Authorized.	Asked.
Illinois	$3,000	$1,000
Iowa	3,500	700
Michigan	6,000	3,000
Minnesota	2,000	1,400
Missouri	2,500	2,000
Nebraska	2,000	1,500
North Dakota	700	2,100
North Minnesota	2,000	3,000
North Nebraska	1,300	1,500

In all $23,000 has been asked for.

GIVEN LIFE SENTENCE

Bloomington, Nov. 6.—On his plea of guilty Judge Meahan at Havana to day sentenced Edward Barton, a horse trader of Springfield, to Joliet penitentiary for life. July 10 last Barton shot and killed Irving Rosenfeld, a prominent merchant of Mason City, and seriously wounded Julius Frank, a clerk, who came to the rescue of his employer.

MAY STRIKE.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—By a vote of 1,524 to 163 employees of the Chicago City Railway company have endorsed a strike if necessary to enforce the demands of their union. Union representatives will call upon officials of the railway company with an ultimatum.

DIED FROM INJURIES.

Indianapolis, Nov. 6.—Frank Shanklin, captain of Hanover college foot ball team last year, died to day from injuries received in a practice scrimmage five weeks ago.

RULED OFF TURF.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—At a meeting of the board of stewards of western jockey clubs to day D. J. Lynch, owner; C. Lind, trainer, and J. Treanor, jockey, were ruled off the turf.

THE GUEST OF KING.

Rome, Nov. 6.—King Victor Emmanuel, hearing that United States Ambassador Meyer had arrived at Pisa, sent an aid de camp to invite the ambassador and family to the royal shooting lodge at San Rosore, where Meyer went this morning for the day. During the forenoon the ambassador rode on horseback with the king and queen and lunched at the castle.

HUMAN ASSOCIATION.

Cincinnati, Nov. 6.—The American Humane association convention closed to night. The present officers were continued until articles of incorporation are filed in the District of Columbia, when all property of the old organization will be turned over to the new society.

QUIET ON RESERVATION.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Indian Agent Brennan in charge of the Pine Ridge agency, South Dakota, reports everything quiet on the reservation.

NAME PARKS REMOVED.

New York, Nov. 6.—Sam Parks was to day sentenced to two years and three months in Sing Sing on charge of extorting $50,000 from the Tiffany studios. He was taken to Sing Sing this afternoon.

PERISH IN GOLD WINE

NINE MINERS LOSE THEIR LIVES

Fire Breaks Out in Virginia City Montana and Those at Work in the Tunnel are Suffocated to Death.

Virginia City, Mont., Nov. 6.—Fire in the Kearsarg gold mine, six miles from Virginia City, to day killed nine miners. Damage to surface buildings is slight. Among the dead is Superintendent R. B. Turner, of Butte, one of the best known mining men in the northwest. Four bodies have been recovered up to to night. The dead:

R. B. TURNER, superintendent.
GEORGE ALLEN, stationary engineer.
JOHN TOBIN.
JAMES POWERS.
EDWARD LAHREDDY.
WILLIAM FLEMING.
ROBERT DONNELLY.
TWO UNKNOWN MEN.

All the dead were miners. Origin of the fire is not known. When discovered the miners in the tunnel were all ablaze and flames were issuing from the tunnel house. Miners across the gulch hastened to the rescue of those known to be in the mine. Near the mouth of the tunnel they stumbled over the dead body of John Turner, who evidently made an effort to escape, but was driven back by flames and smoke. They carried the body to the surface and again entered the workings to rescue their comrades. Up to a late hour the bodies of Tobin, Powers, Fleming and Donnelly were all that had been recovered.

AGAINST BRYAN

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 6.—Judge Cleveland of the probate court to day announced he had decided there was no undue influence by William J. Bryan over the late Philo S. Bennett in construction of the latter's will, but that the sealed letter about which there has been much contention was not incorporated in the will. He finds the document was properly executed. In the decision the judge says: "It is not the province of this court in probating a will to construe its provisions." Formal announcement of the decree was postponed until to-morrow.

The effect of the decision is to prevent Bryan from obtaining the money mentioned in the letter unless the present decision is reversed by a higher court or unless he should be successful in legal proceedings against Mrs. Bennett.

William J. Bryan to night issued a statement regarding the decision in the matter of the bequest in the sealed letter which accompanied the Bennett will. Bryan says in part:

"The court in effect declares the bequest would have been good if it had been made direct as Bennett suggested, but that under the decision the letter cannot be probated in the absence of proof showing that it was actually in existence at the moment when the will was executed. If the bequest falls it will not be the fault of Mr. Bennett, but my fault, and this point will be determined by a higher court, although my attorneys have not yet decided in what form the question will be raised. I am much better pleased with the decision than I would have been if the court had decided for me on the legal point and against me on the moral questions involved. His decision on the question of undue influence is full, emphatic and all that could be desired. It is a complete answer to all insinuations of unfriendly papers."

Bryan said to night he will remain in New Haven or within call of his attorneys until the appeal to the supreme court is perfected and that he will not go to Europe for some time.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MET.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The senate finance committee held a meeting to day. The committee considered informally questions pertaining to collection and deposit of public moneys. No conclusions were reached. There was some informal discussion about proposed legislation for Cuban reciprocity and opinions were expressed the form of legislation was not important and rested entirely with the house. The senate will consider the bill or resolution when it is received from the house.

While the committee had no bill formally before it, the Aldrich bill of the last congress was the basis of discussion. Republican members of the committee are favorable to the bill, though it may be modified before it is reported to the senate.

Members of the house who have been discussing Cuban legislation were pleased to learn there would be no difference between the two houses over the form of legislation. When the committee on ways and means is announced it will proceed at once to formulate a bill to carry the treaty into effect.

WILL HELP ALONG.

T. J. Burns, of Springfield, division passenger agent of the Chicago & Alton road, was in the city yesterday for the purpose of looking over the ground adjacent to the Morgan lake property and the proposed park system. He went out to the lake and rode over the ground, examining it quite carefully and when he had finished he expressed himself greatly pleased with the prospects for a beautiful place of recreation. He says in Bloomington the famous park comprises, but sixty acres of land, while here there are nearly a hundred with water facilities already provided. He says the people of Jacksonville may rest assured that the Alton management will do all things reasonable for the enterprise and will gladly co-operate in making it a desirable place of resort. Mr. Hill and the writer accompanied him to the lake and had an extended conversation with him and he spoke for headquarters when he made the promises mentioned. He said the attitude of the road was most friendly and it would be glad to do anything reasonable on its part in the matter.

FIRE ALARM.

The fire department was called to the grocery store of Patrick Tobin on East Lafayette avenue about 3 o'clock Friday morning, where a fire had been discovered by Patrolman Murgatroyd, who hurried to the Junction and sent in the alarm. The blaze was started from a saw-dust box and burned a hole several feet square, letting the stove into the cellar. The fire was extinguished by the chemical engine and the damage will not exceed $25. Mr. Tobin carried no insurance.

MISSIONARY MEETING.

The Ladies Missionary society of the Christian church held an interesting meeting Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Pyatt.

Mrs. R. F. Thrapp was the leader and after the devotional exercises Mrs. Alice Taylor gave a very full and comprehensive report of the Detroit convention. Mrs. E. N. Kitcher related a number of interesting items in regard to the junior work, after which Miss Marie Finney sang very sweetly a solo. Miss Lackey told of her sister's work in India. After the business session a pleasant social hour followed, during which light refreshments were served by the hostesses.

There were about thirty ladies present and the meeting proved a most enjoyable and profitable one.

LECTURE COURSE NOTICE.

The managers of the lecture course have hit upon a new idea in regard to reserving seats for the entire course. Every person is requested to be at the opera house promptly at 2 o'clock next Monday, the 9th. As many numbers will be put in a box as there are persons there and each one will draw a number. This will show the order of reserving. The first person who is there after the first draw will be given the next number above the one who holds the highest number in the first draw. It is imperative that those who want choice seats to be on hand promptly at 2 o'clock. No one person can reserve more than five seats. Don't forget the date, next Monday, the 9th.

INJURED HIS FOOT.

VAN HORNE'S CAREER.

This month's number of the Cosmopolitan gives a history of the life of Sir William Van Horne, who was formerly employed by the Chicago & Alton as chief train dispatcher, at the age of 21. He is truly a remarkable man and was a boy of extraordinary intellect, although he received a very scant education. At the age of 13 he was an operator for the Michigan Central and filled his position with credit to himself. He left the Alton to go to a northern road, where he was given a position as superintendent of a division, and was later brought back to the Alton and filled a like position in the southern division from Springfield to St. Louis. He again left the employ of the company and has rapidly risen in the railroad world till he is now one of the greatest men in railroad affairs. Queen Victoria gave him the title of Sir for his work with the Canadian Pacific, of which he has been the president. At present he is president of the board of directors of the Canadian Pacific and is president of the Cuba company, who are constructing railroads on that island.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

Cotton's Answer.

An American newspaper correspondent, writing from Beirut, Syria, says that the mastery tactics of Rear Admiral Charles S. Cotton saved a most critical situation three days after his arrival with his squadron. Appeals for protection were made to the admiral by the foreign consuls through a committee sent to the flagship Brooklyn. Protection had already been sent to the American consulate ashore.

The committee was invited on deck to see his preparations for an emergency.

REAR ADMIRAL COTTON.

agency. They saw 500 marines under arms, five field guns ready to be sent ashore, steam launches all around the Brooklyn and the San Francisco, with steam up, ready for instant service.

The Turkish governor sent a messenger to learn what were the plans and intentions of Admiral Cotton. He answered that he had no "plans" and no "intentions." What answer should the messenger carry back to the governor? The admiral asked the messenger if he had observed anything in particular on the deck of the Brooklyn. He had.

"Then," said the admiral, "tell his excellency exactly what you have seen and allow me to add that there are no blank cartridges in this outfit."

It is said that the sultan's subsequent course was considerably influenced by the reports carried to him of the "intentions" and "plans" of an admiral who had no use for blank cartridges.

They Called For Bailey.

It is related that when Senator Bailey of Texas was a struggling young lawyer there was a Democratic congress convention in his neighborhood, and he started to walk to it. On the way he met a farmer, who gave him a lift. "Going to the convention?" asked Bailey after awhile. "Yep," said the farmer. "Ever hear of a young lawyer named Bailey round here?" asked Bailey. "Nope," said the farmer. "Good speaker and bright fellow. I understand," suggested Bailey. "Spose so," said the farmer. "Yep," continued Bailey, "and he will be over there today, and I tell you what we'll do. We'll call on him to make a speech. You see all your friends, tell them about Bailey, and we'll call on him." The farmer said, "All right." No more was mentioned about the matter until there was a lapse in the convention during the preliminary movements of the body. Suddenly the old farmer up and suggested that the convention hear from Mr. Bailey, "a rising young lawyer of these diggins," he said, "an' a feller who talks like puttin' out fire." "Bailey, Bailey, Bailey!" more than a dozen yells went up, and Bailey came forth. Joe Bailey made one of the hottest speeches of his life, and the upshot of the whole thing was that the "rising young lawyer of these diggins" got the nomination for congress.

Cook Couldn't Climb It.

Dr. Frederick Cook of New York has after several futile attempts to scale Mount McKinley from the west announced that ascent from that side is impossible. Dr. Cook, who is intern-

Four Rafts.

Andrew Carnegie is only a few inches above five feet in height. Henry W. Phipps, his old partner, is not an inch taller, and John Walker, the other member of the trio who revolutionized the manufacture of steel, has perhaps a little better of both Carnegie and Phipps. As for Henry C. Frick, his head would just about reach to the shoulder of a man of ordinary height. It is said that one day when these four steel masters were walking together on the streets of Pittsburgh a bootblack called out to his business rival further down the block as the millionaires passed. "Hi, Jimmy, git on to get a new pair."

NOVEMBER FORECAST

Charles Bliss, the well known editor of the Hillsboro News in his last issue has the following November forecast:

The bleak November winds smite the gaunt woods that stand in ragged, scant array, while red o'er the forest peers the setting sun. The dead leaves choke the dusky waters of the brook, and over the brown hills and across the joyless fields the brief day wanders like a hooded monk watching the gathering gloom. The destroyer that comes like a thief in the night has frozen the last drop of life from the pale and withered foliage and October's dream, bright and beautiful as a rainbow, has fled. Up the spangled slopes of the autumnal heavens these November nights celestial glories are seen upon their march, guided by the Power which shaketh the earth out of her place and maketh the pillars thereof to tremble; which alone spreadeth out the heavens and treadeth upon the waves of the sea; which commandeth the sun, and it riseth not, and sealeth up the stars; which maketh Arcturus, Orion and Pleiades, and the chambers of the south. Canst thou blind the sweet influence of pleiades or loose the bands of Orion? Canst thou bring forth Mazzorah in his season or guide Arcturus with his sons? How old is Ann?

When the month of November was first discovered by Romulus it was the ninth month in the year, but was turned down in a spelling match and is now number eleven. Romulus, it will be remembered, was the legendary founder of Rome. The origin of Romulus is shrouded in mystery something like the origin of Alexander Dowie and the heir of the Marquis of Donegal. Rhea Silvia, a vestal virgin, is said to have found him when he was a babe floating in the river Tiber. At least that is what she said. In order, dear reader, that the full force of this mildewed story may percolate into your benighted intellect, put the emphasis on the "she" and then stab yourself with a corn knife. Romulus began building the city of Rome about 753 B. C., but owing to a strike of the bricklayers' union he did not complete it for several years. He invented the Roman calendar. Previous to that time the months used to run foot races to see which would get through the year first. The ancient Romans had special days which they called the calends, the ides and the nodes. Their system was so mixed up that the common people could tell little about it and couldn't tell when it was time to make applebutter or when to put on or take off their heavy flannels, and the restaurant keepers didn't know whether to serve ice cream or oysters. Even the doctors couldn't tell whether to treat a patient for pneumonia or sun stroke.

On the ninth of November congress will meet in extraordinary session. The object of the session is to draw mileage and lay plans for the coming campaign. The month will be noted for its conjunctions. There will be a conjunction of the executive and legislative departments on the 9th, when congress meets a conjunction of Venus and the moon on the 15th, a conjunction of Mercury and the moon on the 18th, of Mars and the moon on the 22d, of Saturn and the moon on the 24th, a conjunction of turkey and cranberry sauce on the 26th and a conjunction of Jupiter and the moon on the 27th. If the moon valued her reputation she would make no dates with old Jupiter. She should remember Ceres and Metis and Themis and Latona and Juno, and the rest of the bevy of Olympian goddesses who monkeyed with the old masher. Besides, Jupiter is armed with thunder and lightning and at the shaking of his shield the tempest rages and the rain and the hail descends, and if the moon conjuncts with the old rake on the 27th we are not to have a hail of a bad spell of weather.

READ THIS.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes, and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, and I feel compelled to tell the public that it did me more good than all things else put together, and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

A RAMBLE IN RUSSIA.

The Russian censor has been at work on the public libraries in Finland, revising the catalogues.

The Russian emperor has ordered his officers to send him photographs of all the convicts who are sent to Sakhalin, taken before they are sent to the lead mines.

A Russian merchant named Zimlakoff is causing the bed of the Volga, in Russia, to be examined near Kator in an endeavor to find a treasure which is said to be valued at upward of $15,000,000.

Kisses are actionable in southern Russia. A kiss in the street car costs the indiscreet osculator a fine of $3. To embrace one's fiancée in public is a privilege valued at $2.40. A declaration of a "great passion" by postal card is subject to a fine of $2.40.

ENGLISH ETCHINGS.

The importation of opium in England has more than doubled since 1898.

The government of the Isle of Man imposes a tax of 2 cents on each person embarking or disembarking at Manx ports.

There are, says the London Times, 20,000 white persons now going to the colonies to settle each month as a result of hard times in England.

The figures representing the white population of Great Britain's colonies will surprise many persons. The important ones are: Canada, 5,525,000; Australia, 2,890,000; South Africa, 875,000; New Zealand, 815,000, which makes a total of 11,075,000 persons.

PURE SPICES

THE BEST TO BE HAD

Our spices are pure—they contain nothing but spice. There is no comparison between them and so-called spices obtained in ordinary grocery stores. Our spices cost a trifle more than poor grades, but the quality tells when it comes to using them. You only have to put in half the quantity of our spice to get a better effect than when you used the trashy kind. We have them already mixed—sixteen different kinds—25c per pound.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Woman's Sewing society of the First Baptist church held their annual meeting Friday afternoon at the home of S. T. Anderson on West College avenue. More than thirty were present and the various committees having the work of the society in charge all made reports showing much accomplished during the past year. This was followed by the election of officers for the ensuing year, which resulted in the re-election of those already in office, as follows:

President—Miss Lizzie Williamson.

First vice president—Mrs. S. Caffy.

Second vice president—Mrs. Martha Scott.

Secretary—Mrs. Dyer.

Treasurer—Mrs. Hawes Yates.

After the election of officers Mrs. Harvey Rowe on behalf of the society in most appropriate words, presented to Mrs. George Hayden the autograph quilt on which the society had been at work for nearly a year. The colors in the quilt are red and white and over 300 names were worked into it. With each name was required a bonus of ten cents and together with donations made by the members of the sewing society $61 was realized on this one quilt. The presentation to Mrs. Hayden was made as an expression of good will from the society and a reward for her faithful services as chairman of the work committee, which has had in charge all the work done by the society.

After the transaction of all the business of the society the hostess served most excellent refreshments and the remainder of the afternoon was spent most pleasantly in a social way.

TO BUILD LEVEE

Break on C. & A. Right of Way at Pike Will be Filled and the Levee Raised Three Feet Along the Track

It is now assured that the C. & A. Railroad company will shortly commence the work of filling the break in the Sny levee near Pike station. It was thought at first that he company would have no part in this work, but would instead build a trestle for their track over the site of the old levee and leave the matter of repairs to the levee commissioners. This action on their part is the result of a recent conference between President H. B. Atkinson of the board of levee commissioners, Col. A. C. Matthews, the attorney for the board, and the officers of the C. & A. road. The conference was held in Chicago and by its terms the commissioners will pay something like $25,000 for the work outlined above. The railroad is to build the new levee three feet higher than the old one and make it much stronger. The Burlington road, which track adjoins the C. & A. at the Louisiana bridge, will do a similar work along the right of way. The work of filling the break is to be done under supervision of the commissioners and by direction of their own engineer.

IN MEMORIAM.

Miss Della May Devore, died Oct. 29, 1903.

Another home has been darkened
By the cold and solemn hand of death,
For a precious daughter has been taken
To the beautiful land of rest.

An angel came at noon of day
And loosed the silver cord—
The soul set free from its prison cold
He carried to the Lord.

Now dearest Della lies asleep,
Her hands on her pulseless breast
And her weary head on the pillow white,
Quietly laid at rest.

Many long days has she suffered,
But her pain and sorrow is no more;
She has crossed the darkened water
And is standing on that celestial shore.

Oh, dear Della, thou has left us,
And thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us—
He can all our sorrows heal.

Do not weep, for darling Della is safe in Heaven.

Kept by the blessed Savior a love—
Oh, when we cross the river of death
May we all meet with her above.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

A Memorable Speech.

Once upon a time there was a high official, governor, secretary of the treasury or something of that sort, who went out to address a gathering of farmers. He got up and made what was thought to be a great speech in those days, and it would be considered a still greater one now. Little is known of what he actually said, because his oration was notable for the things he didn't say. Very first thing he forgot to tell how he was born and raised on the farm; and, oh, how he loved that old farm, where the happiest hours of his life were spent! Next he forgot to mention that farming is the most ancient and honorable calling of them all, without which the world must soon come to starvation. He said not a word about the honest farmer being the most independent man on earth, the backbone or lifeblood of the nation, etc. Nor did he dilate on the beauties of nature, fresh air, cows, eggs and fruits. Then he left out what his political party had done and was going to do for the farmer and how it had to rely on farmers to produce all its staples. Getting down to business, he entirely overlooked any advice to farmers about what to raise and how to do it, and this was by many considered the best part of his memorable speech. He didn't advise them to diversify nor yet to specialize. He didn't tell them to economize nor to spend more money for improvements so they could have fat bank accounts later in the game. He didn't tell them how to treat their wives and children. He confined his talk to the things he knew. There were several other notable features about his address which space will not allow us to mention, but all in all it was one of the greatest efforts ever made before an audience of farmers. The orator was evidently much exhausted by the strain upon him and went home, and died the next day. At last accounts (alas!) he was still dead—the only politician who ever made a speech to farmers and left all this out.—Stockman and Farmer.

Truth About the Hog.

Candor is a rare virtue. As a profitable branch of agriculture hog raising is not inferior to any. But when extolling the virtues of swine do not assert, as we have recently seen in several agricultural papers, that "the hog is the most cleanly of animals." We say, don't make that assertion, for none who know hogs will believe you. Who believes that a hog is as cleanly as a horse or a sheep or a cow? Hogs, however, are more cleanly than their reputation. Tell the truth about the hog, and tell the truth on the hog raiser wherever it will be safe to do so. Hogs may be kept clean, but left to his will he is apt to adopt filthy habits and to eat filthy food. What goes with the large quantities of putrid slops hauled from the city restaurants and hotels to suburban hog lots? If the hogs eat such nastiness, whose fault is it, that of the hog or that of the hog grower?—Farm and Ranch.

Soil in the South.

Farmers in the four states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia used 460,000 tons of fertilizer in 1901, nearly double what was used ten years before. In spite of the vast outlay of money required to purchase these fertilizers the soil of most southern farms does not increase in fertility. What the south needs as much as anything to check this fearful drain for fertilizers and build up the soil is systematic dairying. The cow will bring the south more cash and more cotton. Yet is it not strange that practically all the opposition to the Grout anti-oleomargarine bill came from the southern states? To those who know what dairying will do for exhausted land this southern fight against the dairy industry is beyond comprehension.—Rural New Yorker.

Salt For Animals.

All domestic animals should be supplied with salt. The salt is placed where the animals can help themselves. They will take just what they need and no more. For hogs it is best to combine with the salt wood ashes and slaked lime, but for horses, cattle and sheep a lump of rock salt in the manger or trough will be sufficient. Salt is good for the appetite, and appetite is good for the digestion, and digestion is good for the animal. For fowls the salt should be mixed with the soft feed. Salt is almost universally beneficial to civilized man. Savages don't get it simply because they are savages.

Equalizes Values.

It may be presumed that it costs more to make a can of milk near the city, where land is high priced and hay in demand at $20 per ton, than it does a hundred miles away, where land is plenty and cheap and where the farmer has hay to sell at $10 per ton, but the cost of transporting the milk for which a distance helps to equalize this, and the price per can is made at the city so that there is little if any more profit in milk production in one section than in another. Where hay and pasture cost little the milk must sell low to pay cost of distribution.—American Cultivator.

Hen Versus Incubator.

The average hatch is one chick for every two eggs, says Professor V. H. Graham of the Ontario Agricultural College. He says that on an average the incubator will hatch as many chicks as the hen. While some hens will hatch a much higher percentage than a machine, yet 500 eggs incubated and half are put in an incubator and the other half under hens about equal results in number of chicks will be obtained from each.

JAPAN AGAINST RUSSIA

Views of an Authority on the Manchurian Crisis.

HOW THE FORMER MIGHT WIN.

A Student of Asiatic Questions Says the Chances Would Favor Japan if She Could Strike Her Enemy at Once—Russia's Action in Manchuria Decried a Menace to Civilization.

A lifelong student of Asiatic questions of Washington, whose position precludes the use of his name, spoke as follows on the present situation between Russia and Japan, says a special correspondent of the New York Post:

"If Japan could strike her enemy at once I think the chances would be in her favor in a war with Russia. This does not depend upon population or the number of troops on the rolls, but rather upon the size of a well disciplined army that can be put on the scene of hostilities and maintained there. The seat of war between Russia and Japan would necessarily be Manchuria and possibly the boundary between Korea and Manchuria. Russia's supplies would be limited to the carrying capacity of the Siberian railroad after the first few months, during which she might draw something from Manchuria itself. The Japanese overseas craft would be a hundred times as effective conveyance for supplies as the Trans-Siberian railroad. Russia could do nothing by sea if Japan should strike soon, because Japan would blockade the coast and overcome, I believe, the Russian Asiatic squadron before the European fleet could get to its aid. The navies of the two countries do not differ greatly, and while the Russian is slightly the stronger the Japanese excels in discipline and skill.

"The carrying capacity of a railroad is a limited dependence in a great war. We all know what happened at Tampa. They had the best railroad men in the country there and yet found the greatest difficulties in carrying supplies for an army of less than 40,000 men. The Russians could increase their rolling stock of the railroad only from other Russian railroads, because of their peculiar gauge, which does not conform with that of the other railroads of the world. Her distances would be tremendous and the winter a great obstruction, whereas it would make no interference with the Japanese movement of supplies.

"Would not Russia's staying power be much greater than the Japanese? Would she not ultimately overcome and severely punish her little foe?"

"That is a question of strong boxes. When Sevastopol fell Russia did not give up so much because that point had no strategic value as because her strong box was empty. It was the same way after the Balkan war. She had to release her grip on Constantinople, not because she could not stand up against western Europe, but because she did not have the financial resources to bid it defiance.

"What ought the western nations to do in this Manchurian crisis?"

"I think Russia's action is a menace to the whole world and to civilization. It lays upon every nation the necessity of increasing its army and its navy. It threatens to lock up the whole of Manchuria against the trade of the world. Further than that, it is a common saying among strategists that Manchuria is one of the finest bases of operation against China which could be imagined. It cannot be denied that its acquisition is only a step in the course of Russia's ambition, nor is it possible to see any limit in the future to those ambitions until a proconsul of the czar is sitting on the throne of Kubla Khan, as the Chinese emperor of Marco Polo's time was called.

"Why should not England take advantage of Japan's efforts by going into the contest now and settling once for all the question of Asiatic control?"

"England has not yet fully recovered from the South African war and is in no hurry for a new one. Her treaty with Japan would not commit her to join forces against Russia unless Russia should have an ally or unless Russia should menace the independence of Korea, which by a treaty with Japan England is bound to guarantee.

"What ought the United States to do to save Manchuria?"

"That depends on what is to be the standard of duty in such matters. A duty to civilization is due from the whole of the civilized world, and what is everybody's business is nobody's business. What Russian conquest means can best be seen by looking at Finland and Poland and Lithuania. Under the plea of the necessity of rendering the whole of the Russian empire homogeneous Russia has crushed out or is endeavoring to crush out all signs of distinct nationality and old traditions and all trace of native language among the Finns and among the German elements of Lithuania. She has compelled them to submit to the drastic conscription from which the treaty of Alexander I. exempted them. She has destroyed most of their local government and has subjected them to the arbitrary control of military rulers. Until very recently I have been a defender of Russia and her most earnest well-wisher. With the appointment of Count Lamoriniere as governor of the late Count Muraviev as minister of foreign affairs I cherished the hope that there was some evidence of a peaceful outlook for the indefinite future. I realize that I did not expect the gross repudiation of Russia's promise to evacuate Manchuria. This breach of faith has pushed me beyond measure.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

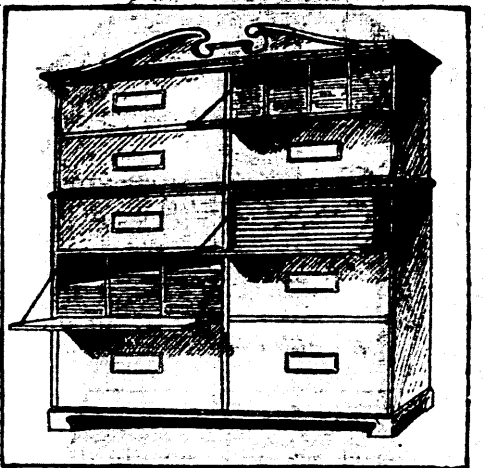

A Cooking Time Table.

Many housekeepers, young and old, are in doubt as to the right time to cook vegetables and meats, so that the following table is given, with the hope that it may prove of value:

Baking meats: Beef, sirloin, rare—Eight minutes for each pound.
Beef, sirloin, well done—Ten to fifteen minutes for each pound.
Beef, rib or rump—Ten to fifteen minutes for each pound.
Beef fillet—Twenty-five minutes.
Lamb, well done—Fifteen minutes for each pound.
Mutton, rare—Ten to twelve minutes for each pound.
Mutton, well done—Fifteen to eighteen minutes for each pound.
Pork, well done—Twenty-five to thirty minutes for each pound.
Veal, well done—Eighteen to twenty minutes for each pound.
Chickens weighing from three to five pounds—One to one and a half hours.
Turkeys weighing from nine to twelve pounds—Three to three and a half hours.
Fish of average thickness, weighing from six to eight pounds—One hour.
Vegetables: String beans—One and a half to two hours.
Cauliflower—Thirty to forty minutes.
Corn, young—Five to ten minutes.
Cabbage, new—Thirty to forty-five minutes.
Carrots—Fifty to sixty minutes.
Onions—Thirty-five to forty-five minutes.
Peas—Fifteen to twenty minutes.
Potatoes, boiled—Twenty to thirty minutes.
Potatoes, steamed—Thirty to forty minutes.
Turnips—Thirty-five to fifty minutes.
Parsnips—Thirty-five to forty-five minutes.

A Treasured Possession.

A linen cupboard is a treasured possession with most housewives, and when, as in the accompanying illustration, the chest is a specially designed one it is a decided acquisition and can be made ornamental as well as useful if the wood selected be in keeping with the general style of the household furniture. The cupboard here shown is divided into six large compartments and these again into smaller subdivisions for the different articles, while the fronts let down, haps, to form convenient shelves. This arrangement of compartments admits of ample space for an ordinary family supply of table and bed linen, dusters, towels, etc.

A CONVENIENT CUPBOARD.

Concerning Tables.

Taken all in all, the square table with solid center support and corner legs that are strong without being "lumpy" and graceful without ornament is the best for general use. As dining room and library furniture yields far less to the influence of fashion than does that for the drawing room, it should be selected for its rich woods, its fine construction, its solidity and character. All cheap vulgarities of ornament should be eschewed and especially that which is glued on. Rough carving is least objectionable, though a handsomely grained wood with no ornament save its own fine coloring is far richer. Two favorite woods for heavy dining room and library tables are oak and mahogany. The former is toned in golden, dark oak, Flemish brown or cathedral green and is seen either in a high shellac or a wax finish. The favorite width for a library table is thirty-four inches; for the dining table, from forty-five to fifty-four inches.—Harper's Bazar.

Oyster Parley.

Select large fat oysters, saving all the liquor. Strain the latter, boil and skim it, then thicken in the proportion of a heaping tablespoonful each of butter and flour to a scant cupful of the liquor. Add salt, cayenne and a few drops of anchovy essence. Wash, drain and dry the oysters on a towel. Roll out puff paste in a thin sheet and cut it in circles. Roll the trimmings and cut them in narrow strips or strings. Dip each oyster into the cold sauce and lay it on one of the rounds of paste. Gather the latter together like a purse, winding one of the strings round it near the top and pinching together so as to inclose the oyster thoroughly. Fry a few at a time in deep, smoking hot fat, drain on unglazed paper and send at once to the table.—Table Talk.

Blanched Parsley.

If chopped parsley for soups or any sauce is blanched it produces a bright green instead of a dull one. Place the parsley in a strainer and dip it for a few seconds in fast boiling water, to which is added one-eighth teaspoonful of soda. Then squeeze dry in the corner of the clean cloth and chop finely. This method improves the taste and color of the parsley.

To Clean Gloves.

Corn meal wet in benzine and rubbed over gloves while on the hands is recommended as a perfect method of cleaning.

Saucers For Ceiling.
One more example of "how not to do it." A Boston man with a decided taste for the study of ceramics has caused the ceiling of his library to be studded with saucers. That these articles are screwed or glued up with sufficing security is probable enough, but the visitor feels in constant apprehension of a crockery downfall and is scarcely reassured when told that the saucers are not likely to tumble and that the whole decoration cost a great deal of money.—Olive Logan in House Beautiful.

STEPPED AGAINST A HOT STOVE.

A child of Mrs. George T. Benson, when getting his usual Saturday night bath, stepped back against a hot stove which burned him severely. The child was in great agony and his mother could do nothing to pacify him. Remembering that she had a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm in the house, she thought she would try it. In less than half an hour after applying it the child was quiet and asleep, and in less than two weeks was well. Mrs. Benson is a well known resident of Kellar, Va. Pain Balm is an antiseptic liniment and especially valuable for burns, cuts, bruises and sprains. For sale by all druggists.

NO REASON FOR IT

When Jacksonville Citizens Show the Way

There can be no just reason why any reader of this will continue to suffer the tortures of an aching back as the annoyance of urinary disorders, the dangers of diabetes or any kidney ills when relief is so near at hand and the most positive proof given that they can be cured. Read what a Jacksonville citizen says:

F. A. Kaule, of 803 East Independence avenue, engineer at the Davis & Snyder ice plant on North Main street, says: "After being cured myself by Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store I recommended them to a friend who was suffering severely and a few days after seeing him almost as well as ever he said 'Doan's Kidney Pills are a splendid remedy.' I had such heavy bearing pains in the loins that I could hardly get up and I stooped down to do anything my back felt as if it would almost break before I could get straightened up. Medicine did not do me any good. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I made up my mind to try them. I experienced a soothing sensation through the loins after the first few doses and in a short time the aches and pains disappeared."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-McLure Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

FOR A BAD COLD.
If you have a bad cold you need a good reliable medicine like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to loosen and drive it, and to allay the irritation and inflammation of the throat and lungs. The soothing and healing properties of this remedy and the quick cures which it effects make it a favorite everywhere. For sale by all druggists.

How We Became a Convert to Sales

The Korean assassin, a very perplexed air. "The distance requires at present," he remarked, with a knowing look, "about six days. How should I spend the remaining five days and four hours if the journey can be done in twenty hours by train?"

MINK SPURNS COUNSEL

Pike County Murder Case Will Come Up Next Week.

Pittsfield, Nov. 6.—When circuit court convenes Monday with Judge Higbee on the bench the case of Fred Mink, the dual murderer, will come up. It is thought, however, that the case will be continued until next April.

Mink is taking matters easy at the jail and does not give his keepers nearly so much trouble as he did during the early days of his imprisonment.

A brother of Mink came from Walla Walla, Wash., last week to arrange for his defense, but Mink refused to consult an attorney. So far he has failed to employ counsel.

"IDEAL" COAL

The excellence of this fuel is proved by the large number of coal users who would rather have "Ideal" than any other. Best way to understand this is to send us an order for a bushel at 12 cents, or a ton at $3.00. "The proof of the pudding" is the way the pudding is cooked. "Ideal" coal proves the pudding every time. Makes cook cheerful. Costs but little. Wood fires will be acceptable during these damp, chilly evenings and mornings.

A CLASS BANQUET

The senior class of Whipple academy showed a creditable amount of class spirit Friday evening by holding a banquet at the Dunlap House, which was elegant in all its details and which was thoroughly enjoyed by the sixteen members of the class present.

Handsome menu cards in the academy colors, red and black, tied with class colors, purple and white, were found at each plate and after a sumptuous repast eloquent speakers responded in suitable sentiments to a program of toasts.

Principal R. O. Stoops, of Whipple academy, presided as toastmaster and introduced each speaker in a most happy manner.

The responses were all given with that buoyancy of spirit that belongs alone to students and each response breathed a loyalty to Whipple and Illinois college characteristic of those who breathe the atmosphere that surrounds the old college hill. The class certainly have exhibited a praiseworthy spirit which argues well for their future course and such enthusiasm is indicative of a feeling of good fellowship and co-operation that adds greatly to the pleasure of student life.

Few preparatory schools indeed offer the student privileges and opportunities that are afforded by Whipple academy and the class of '04 are determined not to be behind their predecessors in enterprise and accomplishment.

During the enforced absence of President George J. Moore an impromptu music program was enjoyed in the Dunlap parlors, for which the young gentlemen of the class are indebted to the young ladies. The program of toasts was as follows:

Whipple Academy '04—George J. Moore.

Social Life in Whipple—Louise Robertson.

'04 in Athletics—George W. Vierra.

Scholastic Life—Gladys Cochran.

Whipple in the Future—Louise Nance.

Who We Were, are and Will be—Charles R. Stephens.

The class officers are: George J. Moore, president; Louise Robertson, vice president; Albert Shibe, secretary-treasurer; George W. Vierra, athletic manager; Principal R. O. Stoops, class officer.

Gladys Cochran, Charles Stephens and George W. Vierra compose the social committee. The members of the class are: Grace Byrns, Gladys Cochran, Carl Gordon, Lucile Harris, Charlotte Hayden, Mary Masters, Louise Robertson, Agnes Rudin, F. B. Schermerhorn, Albert Shibe, Charles Stephens, Katie Taylor, Goldie Vandye, Louise Nance, George W. Vierra, George J. Moore.

Miss Louise Robertson had invited the class to Kilmarnock after the banquet, but as the hour was so late when adjournment took place that this pleasure was postponed until some future time. The class was chaperoned at the banquet last evening by Miss Grace Dudley and Principal R. O. Stoops.

JURY COMPLETES WORK.

The jury for the Meredosia Lake drainage district has completed its work and made report on objections to its first findings. By agreement a reduction of 10 per cent was made from benefits assessed against Objectors Henry Webber, H. H. Roegge, William Roegge, George Kuhlman and John Gallaway. The general assessment for permanent improvement was reduced from about $53,000 to $50,000 and the annual assessment to $1,000, the latter being slightly higher in the first report. The commissioners agreed to these changes, the compromise saving the district and county costs of litigation. Another claimant was George Englebach, of Arensville, who was allowed increased damages of 2 and 3 per cent on two forty-acre tracts and 25 per cent additional on a twenty-five-acre tract. H. H. Korsmeyer & Son were given a reduction on their assessments for benefits of 5 per cent on 100-acre tracts and 15 per cent on another tract.

HELD CAPTIVE

A Whipple Senior has an Interrupted Journey to His Class Feast.

The preps had an inning on college hill Friday evening that doubtless furnished material for the forthcoming Rig Veda, the college annual. President Moore, of the senior Whipple class, arrayed in banquet garments, was captured just as he emerged from his boarding place on West College avenue on his way to the annual senior prep banquet to be held at the Dunlap House. With elastic step and elated feelings he tripped lightly down the porch steps and started toward his carriage when he was seized and bound hand and foot and led captive into the camp of the enemy, which in this instance proved to be his underclassmen, the middle preps. Here he was taunted and made the butt of ridicule, while ludicrous fruit and other articles that savored of the banquet table were temptingly dangled before him.

As his rescue was about to be effected by Principal Stoops his captors made off with him and brought up at the Woman's college, where the originality of several of his stunts attracted attention and comment.

Phillips' confectionery parlors were next visited and here his feelings were tantalized by a mock feast, at which Gordon presided as toastmaster, while impromptu responses by White, "Why Are We Here", Goebel, "Is This Action Just?" Rowe, "Outsiders in This Action" and Kirby, "What Shall We do With This Man?" were made.

Feeling at last that they had held their prisoner as a hostage long enough they surrendered him unto his own and in triumph bore him through the corridors of the Dunlap hotel to the dining room, where his prolonged and unaccounted for absence relieved the anxiety of those whose acknowledged chief he was.

Uneasy lies the head that wears the crown. Sic semper fuit.

Exquisite assortment of trimmings to be seen today at Horman's at special low prices.

CREDIT GIVEN AMERICANS.

Colon, Nov. 6.—The avoidance of bloodshed in Colon following the proclamation of independence, maintenance of order and withdrawal of Colombian troops is looked upon as a great part due to the courage and ability displayed by Commander Hubbard of the Nashville, to the bravery of her officers and men and tact of Colonel Shaler, superintendent of the Panama railroad. The embarkation of Colonel Torres and his troops took place just prior to the arrival of the United States auxiliary cruiser Dixie, whose marines guarded the town last night. All the Dixie's marines have now returned to their ship. The Nashville sailed this afternoon for a cruise along the coast with the object of preventing rumored efforts of the Colombian gunboat Cartagena to land troops at Porto Bello.

TESTIFY IN OLD CASE.

L. J. Flanagan, of Waverly, and R. C. Dennis, of Victor, Mo., formerly of Waverly, were summoned to Springfield to appear in the United States court as witnesses in the Waverly postoffice robbery which occurred in April, 1895, at which time some $10,000 was taken. It will be remembered that some time after the robbery two of the robbers were captured and sent to Chester for five years. Several months ago a third was arrested and is held in the Springfield prison for identification by Messrs. Dennis and Flanagan. A rig was hired at the barn of Flanagan & Taylor by the robbers and driven over near Raymond, where it was left and Mr. Dennis was sent after the rig. In June, 1895, Mr. Flanagan made three trips to New York and Mr. Dennis one trip to that city on the same case.

EVANGELIST ARRESTED.

Orillia, Ont., Nov. 4.—Dr. A. Jenkins, who has been conducting evangelistic services here, was arrested to day on information from Marshalltown, Iowa, where he is wanted on charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Jenkins' real name is said to be A. J. Wheeler.

"THE TRAIL OF THE YANKEE"

Strong Lecture by W. H. Stead at the High School Friday Night Under Auspices of Woman's Club.

The audience that gathered at the high school auditorium Friday evening listened to a splendid lecture on "The Trail of the Yankee" delivered by W. H. Stead, of Ottawa, under the auspices of the Woman's club.

The address was a masterful one and the speaker in his manner of delivery reminds one of the well known platform orator, George R. Wendling, while his thought has the same pungency and his enunciation the same clarity and distinctness. The subject is treated in a happy manner and evidences deep and exhaustive research. The history of the Yankee is clearly traced and the atmosphere in which he was born succinctly analyzed. The elements in his character that made him successful are vividly set forth and his inseparable identification with the growth, development and progress of the nation is convincingly and forcefully told. As a platform speaker Mr. Stead has ease and grace, fluently and force wit and eloquence. His lecture, while it has a historical setting, is aptly and cleverly illustrated and the fact that its subject matter is historical does not in the least detract from its entertainment feature. A brief synopsis is given: "The Yankee is a growth. To produce him required centuries, revolutions and upheavals. The colonists of New England as a community possessed the greatest degree of intelligence to be found in modern times. They were a homogeneous people, but their homogeneity led them eventually into bigotry. For a century and a half the pilgrim fought and resisted the new ideas that invaded his community and that tended to liberalize his religion. The pilgrim was schooled in adversity. He dwelled in a cabin, drank from a gourd, and cooked in a fire place. He was obliged to supply his own wants from the least to the greatest and this educated him in the school of universal knowledge. He could build a house or try a law suit. His home life was rigid and severe and a smile seldom crossed his countenance.

"The methods of the pilgrim we may laugh at, but results of their methods we cannot help but admire. They may have been called dogmatic in their religious beliefs, but it yet remains to be proved that a club house is superior to a meeting house. Next to his Bible the Puritan loved his government and the basic principles of our institutions to day first found their expression in the Mayflower. The federal constitution is the legitimate result of the New England spirit as found in the Yankee civilization. In the town meeting the village cobbler sat beside the banker and the blacksmith beside the clergyman. The Yankee was born in a fortunate era. His natural environment was conducive to growth and his self-reliant spirit is a birth gift. After the American revolution the pioneer became a factor in the nation's growth and who was the pioneer but the Yankee, whose indomitable grit and determination made the wilderness blossom as the rose and reduced the forest to fertile fields and green valleys.

"The Yankee pioneer was a hero. He fought everything from the Indian to the itch. Spirit and will were thrust into heart and brain and he conquered. The Yankee was a home builder. The attributes of the Yankee were and are to day genius, enterprise and push. Eighty-five per cent of the manufacturing plants in the country to day owe their existence to Yankee gumption. In a century and a quarter the ingenuity of the Yankee has conquered even the elements and you can trace the trail of the Yankee from the flicker of the candle to the electric spark, from the roughest log to the iron clad battleship. It was the Yankee who brought the comforts of living to the poor and modern machinery leads to the average family to day the labor of fifty slaves.

"Incentive never was greater than it is to day and brains never yielded a greater dividend than they do to day. The opportunities which surround you and me were never equalled since the dawn of history. The story of the conquest of the Yankee reads like a romance. "There never has been a problem submitted to the Yankee that he has not solved and solved successfully, and upon the intelligent comprehension of and grappling with the problems of the present and the future depends the perpetuity of our institutions. In the nightly activities yet to be, will be found the Yankee. He will never head back, but will move on and on the highest type of a conquering race."
